INSTRUCTIONS: Fill in the blanks with the English translations.

1. The captain began to encontrar (_____) and gather sea weed. He collected so much that he began to hacer (_____) a rope out of it; a rope long enough to lasso a whale.
2. Blowing on a conch shell, the captain began to llamar (_____) his underwater amigos (_____). He did not have to esperar (_____) long for an answer. Hearing the call, a mighty whale swam near by.
3. Lassoing the Leviathan on the first try, the captain climbed upon its back ready for the whale to hacer (_____) his work. But the whale itself became stuck and could barely begin to mover (_____) the ship. The pirate's gold had become an anchor even to the biggest animal of the sea.
4. The captain saw that he himself would be stuck if algo (_____) wasn't done. He too would one día (_____) join the pirate commander if he didn't escape.
5. There was only one cosa (_____) to do. The captain released the treasure.
6. For the first time ever, the bottom of the ocean experienced what it was like for it to llover (_____).
7. But this downpour was not of agua (_____), rather the glitter and glimmer of gold.
8. The more gold that began to caer (_____), the lighter the ship became.
9. The whale continued to ayudar (_____).
10. The ship and its captain finally began to subir (_____). The captain gave a wink and a nod to the pirate commander as he returned all of the cursed treasure.
